Service with a smile

Eminence Senior Shelby Gordon greets teachers and staff every morning with her coffee cart.

She makes coffee and sells it by the cup with other things like muffins, soda and tea. Gordon showed an interest in the hospitality aspect of the job where she learns career ready skills like accounting. Gordon smiles as she travels down the hall with speed and enthusiasm to each classroom. She keeps track of every item sold, writing it down in a ledger. Gordon exudes confidence as she makes change not just for a customer, but herself.

"I like what I do. I like fixing everyone coffee," she said.

When asked by Special Education Director Regina Wallace what the director's usual drink is Gordon immediately responds.

"A large coffee with three French vanilla creamers," Gordon said.

Gordon learns life and career skills through the Project Discovery Program where students do career exploration in up to 10 different career areas, according to Tonie Moore, a 14-year Eminence Special Education teacher. For Moore, it's not just about career readiness but also about confidence.

"It means my job has been accomplished," Moore said. "I hope it teaches not just a job skill after high school but also gives them confidence to be independent and I've helped them accomplish things they haven't done before."

October in Alaska is a wild ride

CANDY clarke
Guest Columnist

October is a month of contradictions for Alaskans. We begin the month with the beautiful autumnal colors of fall and end the month shoveling snow. Whether raking leaves or shoveling snow; life, for Alaskans in Interior Alaska changes drastically during October.

Our days get shorter; many of us leave for work in darkness and return home in darkness. Exterior home improvement projects must be completed before the wood or glass freeze solid for six months. Any outside painting needs to be finished for the same reason.

Anything requiring digging into the earth is gone for five to six months unless you have access to heavy duty equipment. Placer gold miners, from the Gold Rush to present day, close things down and settle in for a long winter's rest. The same holds true for housing construction and road construction. Forget about trying to put up a simple mailbox; it's too late. Of course, I found this out the hard way - the frozen earth practically broke my shovel.

With temperatures at the beginning of October running in the 40s to 70s range during daylight hours and plummeting to 0 or -20 degree range during the night time by the end of October; changes in attire are certainly necessary. It's hard to know what to wear; one morning may require a light jacket and the next morning you may need your warmest Arctic parka. So, we dress in layers; lots and lots of layers! School age children are taught to "layer up" before going outside.

Automobiles require special attention in our frozen desert. Naturally, we change to snow tires by the middle of October, but additional winterization measures are needed to ensure your car's continued performance at -60 degrees. Believe me, one never wants automobile problems at -60F!

State law requires each individual to carry a cold weather emergency kit in the vehicle during the winter months. This kit includes sleeping bags for arctic temperatures, first aid kit, water, radio, food, and extra coat, snow pants, hat, and gloves. One time is all it takes to realize how valuable this cold weather emergency kit is to survival in Alaska. Yes, I learned it the hard way too! Long story short: the left rear tire dropped off the side of a mountain at -40F in a remote area. I never want to repeat that experience!

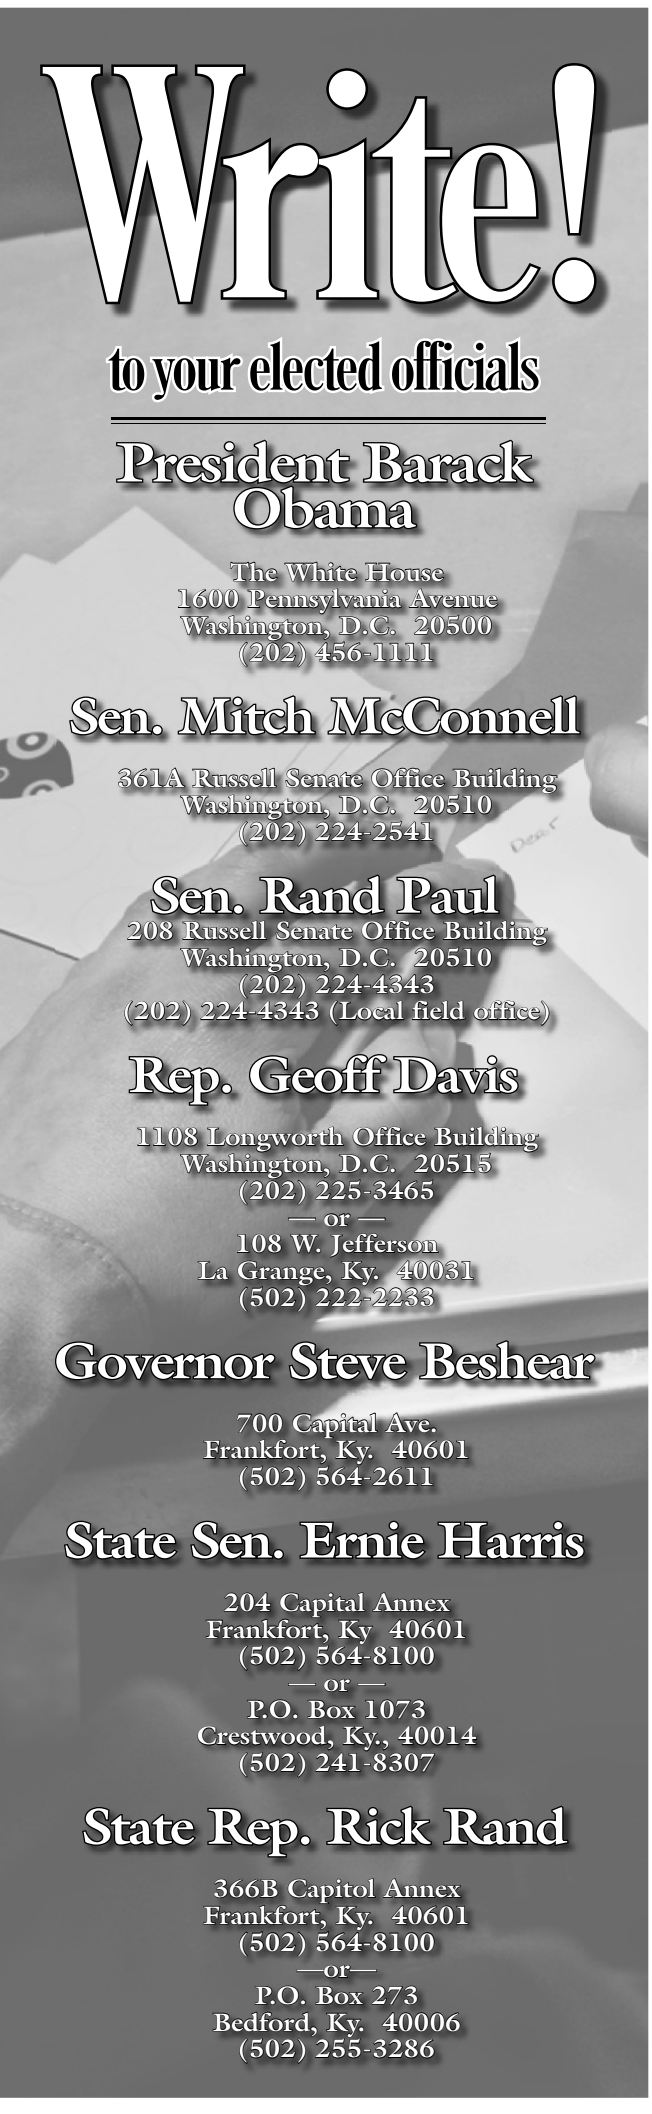

Activities change as everyone rushes to get in that last weekend of camping or that last trip to Denali National Park without the tourists. Hunting and fishing habits change. From hunting fur bearing animals to setting winter trap lines; from fly fishing to ice fishing; from four wheeling to snow machines; from walking to skiing; the focus changes.

Gone are high cranberry pickers, now it's time to watch for the moose in the yard. Gone is the black road covering known as asphalt; now it's time to hone one's skills for driving on black ice and deep snow.

While many things change in Alaska with the temperature drop, Halloween remains an important holiday for the children. Here, the children wear their costumes over their snow suits. It's not unusual for the teenagers or adults who dress in costume to be found on the ski slopes celebrating the last day of October.

Then, there's my favorite activity: watching the Aurora Borealis, better known as the Northern Lights. With the cooler temperatures, "the Lights" make frequent appearances. The best viewing time is between midnight and 3 a.m.; the colder the temperature, the better chance of seeing "the Lights".

Why should I do something sensible, like sleep or watch television when I can " layer up" and journey out into the cold black night to watch the magic of "the Lights" as they dance across the sky?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Eminence Mayor: Change, progress are hard

Yes, I agree that it is our responsibility to work hard to support and help maintain our current businesses. It is also our duty and obligation to try and move forward with opportunities for new businesses in our community. We need to provide our businesses with every opportunity to succeed.

New businesses will bring new and more people into our community. New people to buy gas here. New people to buy a DQ blizzard while they are here. New people to stop for lunch at Hometown or Subway while they are here. Since the news has gotten out about CVS possibly coming to our city, we have seen a renewed interest in our town by developers and businesses that quite frankly were not interested before the CVS announcement.

It is very unusual for a city our size to only have one pharmacy. Consider Crestwood and Owenton. Both are smaller than Eminence and neither even have as much industry yet both support at least 2 pharmacies with Crestwood even supporting 2 large national chain stores. Competition does not kill businesses, it makes them stronger.

Regardless, is it our role to try and stop progress? I argue it is not and furthermore would be irresponsible to do so. When we sit back and do nothing, we are moving backward. Doing nothing causes us to miss opportunities for new jobs; new revenues and most importantly we miss the opportunity for our current businesses to make a new customer.

While I also agree that it would have been ultimately best for our city to still have all of its historical buildings intact, the fact remains for many reasons, no one chose to invest in them, to rehab them, and to operate their businesses out of them. They are beyond repair and falling down and unsafe. We must move on.

Change is hard. Progress is hard. I contend that neither is as hard as watching a city die and dry up right in front of your eyes. Drive around our city. Count the empty buildings and store fronts. Research the trend. Without growth and progress we allow the opposite to happen.

The city of Eminence is committed to giving our best effort to not let this happen. We will not sit back and watch our great city dry up and blow away.

Drane Stephens, Mayor
Eminence

In defense of Geoff Davis

In light of recent comments from a couple of letters to the editor regarding former Congressman Geoff Davis, the Henry County Republican Party would like to set the record straight.

Geoff Davis has been the U.S. Representative for the Fourth District of Kentucky, and has been a friend to Henry County since his election in 2004. Over the past eight years, he worked on regulatory reform, providing tax relief to working families, fighting for small businesses, promoting energy independence, supporting American service members and veterans, and the REINS Act, which reins in wasteful bureaucratic, government spending. One of the most important pieces of legislation to come out of Washington D.C. in a long time.

It was his humble beginnings, and life experience, that led to one of his greatest accomplishments, The Homeless Emergency Assistance and Rapid Transition to Housing Act, a bipartisan bill that improves the Department of Housing and Urban Development's definition of "homeless," increase local flexibility and streamline the Homeless Assistance Grants Program. During the 112th Congress, Congressman Davis introduced the Child and Family Services Improvement and Innovation Act that was signed into law by President Obama on Sept. 30, 2011. This bipartisan bill reauthorizes and improves two important child welfare programs to continue serving children and families in need without adding to the deficit.

Because of his military experiences, as an Army Ranger, and a West Point Cadet, Congressman Davis has also been a champion of our nation's military heroes. As a soldier, Congressman Davis was taken advantage of by predatory sales tactics. Congressman Davis offered the Military Personnel Financial Services Protection Act. The bill was signed into law on Sept. 29, 2006. This law will help protect service members from companies selling risky financial products, including expensive and unnecessary life insurance, as well as mutual funds with excessive fees. Congressman Davis became a leader for defense reform and co-chair of the National Security Interagency Reform Caucus. His article on interagency reform was published in the July/August 2008 issue of Military Review and is now mandatory reading at the U.S. Army War College.

While visiting wounded troops, Congressman Davis discovered an inequality between active and reserve service members in regard to disability retirement pay. Driven to act, Congressman Davis made sure the House-passed version of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2009 included an important provision that would have increased disability retirement pay for some reservists/veterans who are severely and permanently disabled from being wounded in action. Congressman Davis knows bullets do not discriminate, and neither should we.

After recognizing the increased pressure that our troops are experiencing in the current economy, Congressman Davis offered an amendment in the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2008 that doubled Hardship Duty Pay for service members to a maximum of $1,500 per month, from the previous maximum of $750 per month. Congressman Davis is determined to protect and serve the dedicated military professionals who sacrifice so much for our nation.

Congressman Davis has been recognized as a results-oriented problem solver by the National Association of Manufacturers, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Federation of Independent Business, the National Association of Development Organizations, Americans for Tax Reform and the Small Business and Entrepreneurship Council, among others. He has also been awarded the Housing Assistance Council's Henry B. Gonzales Award for his work to improve low-income housing in rural communities. In October 2009, Congressman Davis was honored as an Outstanding Advocate by the Women's Crisis Center of Northern Kentucky for his work to fight domestic violence in Kentucky.

In 2010, Congressman Davis was recognized with the Friend of the Farm Bureau award for his strong support of issues important to agriculture.

Congressman Geoff Davis has been a friend to single parents, children, the homeless, active and veteran military, and farmers. He has served his country in many ways, and the Henry County Republican Party thought you should know the good he has done for the people of Henry County, the 4th congressional Dist. Kentucky, and the nation. To portray him in any less light is shameful.

and she no longer has the ability to talk beyond a few mumbled syllables. She can only swallow and breathe on her own. Broughton's grandfather David Ritter didn't show the more obvious signs until his wife went into a nursing home.

"They (doctors) think that a lot of his symptoms were masked because he was trying to take care of my grandmother," Broughton said. "Once he no longer needed to the disease began to show its symptoms."

In the beginning stages, Broughton could tell her grandparents knew they were losing their memory. They would admit to her things they knew they should remember or apologize. Once the disease progressed, the Ritters didn't notice the memory gaps anymore.

"They would say things that completely lacked sense," Broughton said. "You had to repeat yourself a lot."

Broughton said it was an exercise in patience for those closest to them. She would tell herself when her grandfather would get really confused, that it was his disease and not him. Broughton had to breathe, not get short with them and remember that her grandparents were unaware of what was happening to them. Correcting them, Broughton thought, could do more harm than good.

"They still look like your mom, dad, brother, grandma, but it's almost in a way, like a shell," Broughton said. "It's emotionally frustrating to watch someone you love slipping away like that."

At first her grandmother forgot things like leaving the burners on the stove when she went to run errands. Then Ritter started losing basic speech ability and proper words for things. Walking became a challenge and Ritter couldn't stand up on her own from a sitting position. According to Broughton, Ritter hasn't walked in almost four years and her grandfather is in the loss of movement stages now.

A 2012 report from the Alzheimer's Association reveals the prevalence of the disease.

One out of eight elderly have been diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease.

Alzheimer's is the sixth leading cause of death in the United States.

More than 15 million Americans provide unpaid care for people with Alzheimer's or other dementias.

Payments for care are estimated to be $200 billion in 2012.

Broughton advises anyone new dealing with Alzheimer's disease to go to the Alzheimer's Association website to learn more about the course of the disease and resources available to caregivers. For example, there is a local caregiver meeting in Oldham County every month.

"You can go and share your experiences with other caregivers who are struggling," Broughton said. "Until the disease affects you personally, it's hard to know what it's really like. Well-meaning friends are an asset, to be sure, but talking with other people going through it is essential."

The website also has information about fundraising.

"I am a Henry County native born and bred. I wanted to bring the fundraising event home to the county I grew up in," Broughton said. "Henry County is just such a big part of my life and the community and people like John Logan Brent have been very responsive in helping set up the fundraiser."

Broughton earned a bachelor's in vocal performance from Transylvania University in 2009. Broughton will be joined by several of her Transylvania music alumni for the Forget Me Not fundraiser at the Henry County Fairgrounds on Oct. 20 from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. where she will perform. There will be a silent auction and T-shirts sold at the event. Admission is free and Broughton asks for any donation attendees feel comfortable giving.

"We can raise awareness about the disease," Broughton said. "It's not too late for the next generation. I have performing slots open for a church group or even a child that may want to perform."

Broughton finds strength in her talent and music.

"My choir teacher in undergrad used to put TPOM (the power of music) on the board before every concert," Broughton said. "In his pre-concert pep talks, he'd never fail to say, 'Never underestimate the power of music.' When I'm singing to my grandma and it pulls her to that brief connection, I really do feel and believe in the power of music. If it can touch someone who has lost almost everything, I'm pretty positive there is nothing it can't do."

School in Fort Mitchell where she witnessed a coffee cart in action, McClamroch and Moore collaborated to make it an implement for students learning life and career skills. Gordon immediately took an interest in the coffee cart as part of a career exploration in the food industry.

At home Gordon enjoys cooking just about anything.

"But I love hot dogs with cheese," Gordon said. "I like catch up math in school, playing games on my Game Cube and the Wii."

Gordon has two dogs named Bruiser and Little Bit. She loves any kind of music: country or bands like AC/DC.

"I want to work at Sun Tan City," Gordon said. "I like tanning."

Gordon has been a student at Eminence Independent Schools since the seventh grade. She recently celebrated her 18th birthday. WHAS Crusade for Children recognized Shelby as a 2012 Crusade kid. The television station interviewed Gordon and gave her a photo shoot. Gordon is one of Eminence's 83 special needs students who will, after graduation, attend job training programs in resource centers like Carl D. Perkins Vocational School in Paintsville, Moore and Wallace said.

"Our students are also in the mainstream population and classrooms," Wallace said. "Each student has their own individual education program based on their needs."

Hearts of Grace yard sale serves 511

SUBMITTED BY DENISE PERRY
HCPS Director of Student Services

SUBMITTED

Each student was able to fill a shopping bag with the clothes, shoes and accessories needed and desired for the beginning of the new school year. Below, Karen Wilson and Debbie Hartford of the Henry County and Eminence Youth Services Centers registered over 500 shoppers for the free Hearts of Grace "Yard Sale."

"Hearts of Grace" says it all.

Staff members of the Henry County Family Resource and Youth Services Center regularly demonstrate their efforts to reduce barriers for students. Throughout the year they provide a variety of services to families, but in July they pull out all the stops for a back-to-school event.

In collaboration with the entire community, the FRYSC hosts the Hearts of Grace "Yard Sale." The three-day affair is a free shopping opportunity for students and families who are able to fill a shopping bag with items they specifically want or need. The FRYSC has always provided clothing items but decided to give folks the chance to "shop" for what they really wanted.

Community members support the Hearts of Grace initiative by donating clothing, shoes, accessories and items students need for their return to the classroom. Instead of having their own yard sales, many people now collect items all year and bring them to the New Castle Christian Church which generously donates its facility for a full week. The days preceding the event are hectic for staff members and volunteers who spend hours sorting, organizing and displaying all of the merchandise.

Upon arriving, each family member is signed in and given a shopping bag. Volunteers help children find the correct sizes and items that are especially desired. To say that the Hearts of Grace "Yard Sale" depicts the best of an intensive, valuable, resourceful activity is an understatement. The July event served 511 individuals—very impressive in a school system of around 2,300.

FRYSC staff members from Henry County Public Schools and Eminence Independent Schools organized and coordinated the Hearts of Grace event: Karen Wilson, HCPS Youth Services Center Director; Lori Potts, HCPS Youth Services Center Assistant; Debbie Hartford, Eminence Family Resource and Youth Services Center Director; Renata Ingram, HCPS Family Resource Center Director; and Deanna New, HCPS Family Resource Center Assistant.

The staff and committed volunteer force indicate that they always get more from the experience than they give. Even though it requires months of planning and long days of actual preparation, they leave feeling they were part of a worthwhile endeavor that truly benefits everyone involved. There are always stories of children who find just the right items to help them head back to school with confidence. Through a generous joint effort, the community links hands, hearts and resources to make the event special.

The Family Resource and Youth Services Center epitomizes the vision of education reformers who recognized the need for supports outside the classroom. Henry County's FRYSC has become the centralized location that coordinates what the community can provide for families. Hearts of Grace is just one example of the synergy that the FRYSC staff produces.

In collaboration with agencies, organizations and individuals, the center's scope of activities includes supplying educational and personal support for students individually and in groups; coordinating Red Cross, Salvation Army and organizational efforts for families and their children; operating the Dare to Care food drive for the county; obtaining medical and social services when needed; supporting each school's efforts to have students in school with their basic needs met through home visits and communications; operating the county's emergency food pantry and clothes closet; conducting parent workshops and trainings on various topics; sponsoring transition programming for students moving from preschool, elementary and middle school levels; giving holiday help through the Christmas for Kids program and food baskets; providing varied-content assemblies for students at all schools; organizing community events such as a multi-source baby shower, Latino Family Night, and others; hosting special school-based opportunities for families such as the Father/Daughter Dance, reading and math nights, and Muffins with Mom/Doughnuts with Dad; organizing the weekend backpack food program; and really any services that can be conceived to support students.

Whenever a need is identified for Henry County students, the FRYSC is involved in providing, locating or coordinating services. Teaching students requires meeting them where they are and approaching them with graceful hearts and willing hands. That's the mission fulfilled by the district's FRYSC and its four dedicated, compassionate and resourceful "hearts."

Shelbyville man charged with murder for fatal Nov. crash

BY LISA KING
Landmark News Service

A man who crashed a tractor-trailer in which his passenger was killed last fall has been charged with that man's murder.

Kentucky State Police arrested Lonnie Monroe, 44, of Shelbyville on Monday and charged him in connection with the death of James Jacob, 38, who lived on Cherry Lane. Monroe is also charged with DUI.

Kentucky State Police spokesperson Ron Turley said that Monroe was under the influence of methamphetamines when the crash occurred.

The crash happened at shortly before noon on Nov. 9 at the intersection of Fisherville and Veechdale roads. Monroe was driving a 1992 Ford tractor truck, pulling a trailer westbound on Fisherville Road, when he tried to pass a U.S. Postal Service truck that was stopped to deliver mail at a residence.

Monroe lost control of the vehicle on the side of the road and overturned, striking some small trees and a fence. Jacob was killed in the crash and was pronounced dead at the scene.

Turley said the does not know why it took so long to bring charges in the accident.

"On these kinds of cases, there are a lot of test results that have to come back from toxicology, and then they have to gather a lot of other evidence," he said.

Monroe was also charged with numerous commercial vehicle offenses, including operating on a CDL (commercial driver's license) under the influence of a controlled substance, CDL not licensed, no Intrastate authorized authority, Violation Part 391 Federal Safety Regulations (Qualification of Drivers), Violation Part 393 Federal Safety Regulations (Parts Needed Safe Operation), Violation Part 392 Federal Safety Regulations (Driving of Motor Vehicle), improper use of a farm plates and no registration plates.

KSP Vehicle Enforcement Officer Steve Oliver said that he does not know if Monroe knowingly ignored the law concerning commercial vehicles or if he just didn't realize his truck fit the requirements for a commercial vehicle.

"Some of the smaller trucks don't normally fall under the guidelines of a commercial vehicle, but if they are pulling a trailer [which Monroe was], then that would make it commercial," he said.

Although Monroe is charged to be under the influence of drugs rather than alcohol, Oliver said DUI penalties in commercial vehicles are harsher than in passenger cars.

"That's because a big truck can do a lot more damage if it is involved in an accident than a car can,' he said.

He said the legal limit for drivers of commercial vehicles (.04) is only half that for passenger cars (08).

Monroe was arraigned Tuesday in Shelby County District Court and is being held at the Shelby County Detention Center under a $250,000 cash bond.

Hooked on MAP skills

SUBMITTED BY STEPHANIE HINES

Campbellsburg Elementary had a ceremony that awarded students who brought back their summer learning program workbooks. Out of the 289 students who took the workbook home at the beginning of the summer 158 were brought back this fall. The ceremony was set up like an Olympic style ceremony with gold, silver and bronze medals awarded for the different levels of completion. Every summer elementary school students lose 2.6 months of learning if they do not keep up their school year skills. So that is 1 full year over the course of elementary school. As a result of the number of workbooks returned, Campbellsburg elementary was very excited to see improvement on the MAP tests score results. Several of the children had increased test scores and some were as much as +30's. It makes a big difference when you can see the improved test results of the children at the beginning of the school year.

On Oct. 2, 1837, Alfred Neal who lived on Six Mile Creek reported to Sheriff David Adams that he had taken in a stray, sorrel horse. The horse was about six years old, stood about sixteen hands high and had a flax mane and tail. It was appraised at $55.

(Not Henry County) The Battle of Perryville, Kentucky occurred on Oct. 8, 1862. It involved General Braxton Bragg's Confederates and General Don Carlos Buell's Northern troops. The result of this encounter, the most significant of the battles fought in Kentucky, is that Bragg is compelled to retreat southeastward. Casualties are listed, for the Federals, at 845 dead, 2851 wounded and 515 missing, out of 36,940 men. Confederates tally 510 killed, 2635 injured and 251 missing out of a total troop strength of 16,000. Of the combined fighting force of 52,940, 14.4 per cent or 7,607 were either killed, injured or missing in battle.

The County Court paid a claim of $6 to J. Stapp Mitchell for four days of work on a cistern. The claim did not state where the cistern was located. Evidently it was either at the courthouse or the poorhouse.

Henry tied to Civil War escape

BY BRAD BOWMAN
Reporter/Photographer

The Civil War divided just as many people in the county as it did in the state and nation. This is the first article of a Civil War series, beginning with an escape involving a Henry County resident that reached national fame during the late 1800s.

SUBMITTED

Capt. I.N. Johnston of Pleasureville above later in life and below as a soldier was part of the great historical escape from Libby Prison.

Capt. Issac Newton Johnston of Pleasureville enlisted under Col. Walter Whitaker in 1861 as part of the Sixth Kentucky Volunteer Infantry. Whitaker had been commissioned to raise a regiment in Eminence. In Cap. Thomas Speed's book The Union Regiments of Kentucky, the captain said only 130 men returned out of the 1,000 who enlisted.

Johnston felt compelled to join and help protect the Union. Johnston wrote that 100 men from Henry County enlisted and selected him as captain of Company H of the Sixth Kentucky Volunteer Infantry.

"…I remembered the wisdom of those men who gave shape to our institutions; I remembered the price at which independence was purchased," Johnston wrote. "I felt that in such a cause, and for such a country, it would be sweet to die."

His grandfather Thomas Young, too young to serve as a soldier in the Revolutionary War, acted as a drummer and later a dispatcher in the war. He was with George Washington during the surrender of Yorktown.

Johnston participated in three battles

Johnston fought his first battle at Shiloh in April 1862 with Gen. Ulysses S. Grant's army and six other divisions. The Battle of Shiloh proved to be the first heavy- casualty skirmish. The first day of battle Union troops suffered more casualties. The Confederate Gen. Albert Sidney a veteran officer died at the Battle of Shiloh. Johnston suffered a shot through his left cheek and the ball passed near the ear. Johnston wrote that the blow "…laid me for a time unconscious on the field amid the dead and the dying."

In a Courier-Journal article from 1961 by Evelyn Meyer, Isaac Johnston's son Joseph Elliot Johnston said in an interview that his father's injury brought him much difficulty as he could never get a set of teeth fitted properly.

Johnston fought another battle and sustained injuries under Gen. Rosecrans on Dec. 31, 1862, at the Battle of Stones River (Murfreesboro, Tenn.) against Confederate General Braxton Bragg. The battle proved to be inconclusive for both sides with the Union totaling more men injured, killed and missing or captured. The battle lasted until Jan. 3, 1863. Shell fragments bruised Johnston's arms and smashed the stock of a pistol the captain hung on his side. The fragments bent the barrel almost doubling it Johnston wrote. He credited the pistol with saving his life.

Captain Johnston retreated from his third battle at Chickamauga. The Union lost heavily and Confederate soldiers took Johnston prisoner during his brigade's ordered retreat.

His defeat ultimately brought him one of his most memorable successes.

Confederates took Johnston to Richmond, Va. where he would spend four months in Libby Prison.

The Escape

Maj. Andrew G. Hamilton of the 12th Kentucky Cavalry and a Col. E. Rose are credited with planning the escape, from which encompassed descending into the prison's basement, tunneling 50 feet, depending on which source you read, under a guarded yard and into a tobacco shed. Confederate soldiers sealed off the basement after repeated flooding and a continuing rat problem made it inoperable. Hamilton's personal account is written in his book, Eighteen Months a Prisoner under the Rebel Flag and describes how he removed bricks from a kitchen fireplace and descended to the basement.

Johnston was let in on the secret plan, which led to 15 officers working in three groups for 52 days. Hamilton recounted that, "…the only difficulties experienced in making this excavation resulted from a lack of tools and the unpleasant feature of having to hear hundreds of rats squeal all the time, while they ran over the diggers almost without a sign of fear."

The Union men hid the displaced dirt under straw in the basement and once the tunnel, now shoulder width, progressed deep enough they used wooden cuspidors (spittoons) with ropes to pull the dirt out of the tunnel.

In Johnston's book, Four Months in Libby, he recalls how during an evening head count of prisoners he was counted as missing. Johnston spent the rest of his time hiding out near the tunnel fed by fellow diggers when they came to start their shifts.

On the day of the escape, Johnston hid under the pile of straw as three slaves sat on top of it eating food they found the escape party had hidden. The slaves retrieved barrels stored in the back part of the basement and left.

Hamilton's account states he and Rose went through the tunnel first followed by Capt. J. F. Gallagher, Major Fitzsimmons, Capt. Johnston and a Lt. Fislar. Confederate soldiers recaptured 48 of the 109 Union men that escaped on Feb. 9, 1864. Several Confederate sentinels were imprisoned under the suspicion of bribery until the tunnel was discovered. Hamilton reached Union lines on his own in Williamsburg.

Johnston and Fislar eventually found a sentinel of the 11th Pennsylvania Calvary. The officers' familiarity with the territory and the armies' movements aided them in finding a safe route to a Union army where they were transported to Washington, D.C.

Johnston later married Annie Nash of Shelby County and settled in Pleasureville where he is buried.

Week 4

"Unbelievable!"

"Awesome!"

"Incredible!"

Everyone cheered, thrilled about completing our first zip-line ride, although I was still scared about having to make a confession.

"Uh, Miss Sam, I have something to tell you."

"What's wrong, fella?" Sam asked, as everyone looked frightened.

"You know when I was zipping really fast?"

"Yes," Sam answered.

"Well, I, uh, don't know how to tell you, uh…"

"Spit it out, Woody."

"I lost two apples, one grapefruit and a bowl of oatmeal!"

Everyone breathed a sigh of relief and then laughed.

"You aren't the first to lose their cookies, Woody, and you won't be the last," Sam said, rubbing my head.

Dad was right — confession was good for the soul.

"OK, folks, let's eat lunch," Sam suggested.

We found a beautiful place in the gorge to eat our sack lunch. Mom packed turkey sandwiches on whole wheat bread with lettuce and tomato for each of us. Mom let us choose our own sides.

"Those pineapple slices look yummy, Chloe," I said as my sister pulled out her side items.

"Thanks! I brought pineapple, carrots and yogurt," she said. "What healthy sides did you pack, Woody?"

"A few fruits and vegetables," I answered, pulling out my watermelon jawbreakers and fried green tomatoes.

Everyone froze. I wish I'd packed enough for everyone.

"Hold it, junk-food junkie," Sam ordered. "I hardly consider watermelon jawbreakers a fruit. And the nutritional advantages of tomatoes were lost when they were fried. Pass it over, puppy."

Obeying, I handed over my sides, hoping Chloe would share her fruit slices so I'd have something to go with my sandwich.

"Remember how we talk about eating a well-balanced diet of fruits, vegetables, dairy, meats and grains?" Dad asked.

"He's right," Sam said. "Studies prove that people who maintain a healthy weight stay well and live longer than those who are overweight. Diet and exercise also reduce our risk of diabetes, heart disease, high blood pressure and some cancers."

"Here, eat this," Sam said, handing us each a piece of a fruit I'd never seen. It was the size of an orange but the color was a deep ruby red.

"Thanks, but I'll pass," I said, turning up my nose.

"To develop healthier eating habits, you must expand your taste buds," Sam said, echoing what our parents told us frequently. My parents looked at me as if to say, "I told you so!"

"During boot camp you will try at least one new healthy food each day. You don't have to like everything," Sam said, "but you do have to eat at least three bites. The fruit I've just given you is a pomegranate. It's different from other fruits because the tastiest part is the seeds."

We cut open the ripe fruit and dug out the crimson seeds. I held them in my paw, smelled them and then popped one in my mouth. My mouth automatically puckered up at the tart fruit.

"Wow! These taste like a cross between Nerds and SweeTarts," I said with fish lips.

"And to think you almost missed out because you were a scaredy-cat," Sam said, teasing. "OK, folks, kitchen's closed," Sam said as she rose from the table.

"Don't forget to pick up the trash, pups," Mom said, gathering up garbage. There was trash that wasn't ours, but we picked it up anyway. Mom and Dad have always taught us that if everyone does what needs to be done, life runs more smoothly. After the trash was in the cans, Mom retrieved and read Rx 2 from Doc Albert.

Turn right onto Highway 11 and follow the highway until you reach Highway 15.¬ Turn right on Highway 15 and drive for about 10 miles to Tunnel Ridge Road. Another trainer named Pete will meet you at that intersection and give you further instructions.

"I hate to leave you pups, but my work is done," Sam said as she hugged us. "You need to get going. Pete's waiting. And Woody, so you know, Pete's a guy," Sam said, winking again.

We thanked Sam and told her we hoped to see her again.

"What will Pete have us do?" Chloe asked.

"It's top secret," Sam answered.

"Just one little hint?" Chloe asked.

With that, Sam pretended that she had locked her lips and thrown away the key.

EHS V. HCHS VOLLEYBALL, ROUND 2

EHS WINS SECOND ROUND AGAINST CATS, 3-0

GREG WOODS/LOCAL

Tiffany Thomas attempts to block a kill by Megan Payton.

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

When the Eminence and Henry County volleyball teams met on Sept. 11, Henry County came out on top in a close 3-1 match.

But on Sept. 27, the Warriors came out on top, on their home court, 3-0.

And this time, it wasn't quite as close.

The first game of the match was a nail-biter that Eminence won 26-24.

The game was well played, with the widest margin coming at a 12-8 Eminence lead. Henry County Coach Katie Ruff called timeout, which sparked a Lady Cats' 8-1 run, where they took the lead 16-13.

Until that timeout, Eminence's Tiffany Thomas was dominant at the net with back-to-back blocks. After the timeout, Lady Cat Megan Payton went on a tear, getting several points on blocks and kills in the Henry County run. With her team trailing by three, shortly after being up by four, coach Stephanie Barrows called timeout to settle her team down.

Coming out of the timeout, Payton got a block to give Henry their largest lead at 17-13. But then EHS got the serve back on a call against Payton for touching the net.

HCHS CROSS COUNTRY

Cats conquer Archives

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

The Archives Course in Frankfort was the site of the 29th annual Capitol View Classic and the Henry County cross country team competed there for the first time in several years.

Many runners and coaches consider it one of the toughest courses in the state with long up hill runs and steep down hills. In fact the information packet sent out by organizers call it the infamous Archives course. Most runners don't go there expecting to set personal records-they just want to survive it.

But Henry County runner John Bates didn't buy in to that viewpoint. Bates set a personal record on the course Saturday with a time of 20:04. It was the best time of the day for any runner from Henry County and was good enough for the win in the junior varsity race. And Bates didn't just beat his personal record; he shattered his previous best by more than 1.5 minutes.

"John Bates had the performance of the day," Coach Ricky Drawbaugh said. "He PR'd on a very difficult course. After seeing the varsity race I told John to win the JV race, that there should be no competition there that he could not run with. He was mad at himself for not breaking 20."

Drawbaugh said others also performed well.

"Looking back at the Horse Park results for other teams, most ran about the same time the past two weekends. The Horse Park is a long course and Capitol View is a hard course. Eddie Jones was a minute faster, as was Connor Finley. Most of our other boys were about the same time. I thought we had a good day overall," he said. "Cathryn Fischer ran about the same in both races. We went into

Eminence rips Trimble, 40-6

Brandon Mitchell reaches high for a pass from his brother, Justin.

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

After a big road win at Berea, the Eminence Warriors returned to their home field.

Once home, they thrashed the Trimble County Raiders.

The Warriors now stand at 5-1 on the season heading into district play.

Offensively, the game started slowly for the Warriors despite good field position. After Daishon Moore recovered a Raider fumble on their opening series at the Raider 37-yard line, the Warriors were in business.

On the sixth play of the drive, from the 25-yard line Justin Mitchell found Moore for a touchdown pass. But the play was called back for holding. Later in the series, facing 3rd-and-long, Mitchell was intercepted and the first threat of the game ended.

After the Raiders' next series, the Warriors took over at the Raider 25 when Moore returned a short punt. This time the Warriors took advantage of the good field position as Mitchell found Hayden Hoofman in the end zone for an 11-yard touchdown pass. The conversion failed and Eminence led 6-0 with 4:54 to go in the quarter.

The Eminence defense held Trimble to a 3-and-out series and blocked the ensuing punt to get good field position at the Trimble 19-yard-line.

On the first play after the

HCHS GIRLS GOLF

HCHS tees off at state

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

When she teed off in the first round of the State Golf Tournament Tuesday, Maddie Hensley was the youngest individual qualifier.

Hensley a 6th grader will be joined by three other youngsters from across the state. Gracie Ann Parrott of Green County and Zoe Crum of Johnson Central are also 6th graders. Rylea Marcum of Scott County is a fifth grader and the youngest in the field. But each of these young ladies made it on the strength of being from a qualifying team.

Only Hensley did it by making the cut as an individual.

Meanwhile, sophomore Mackenzie Peyton who has been ranked as one of the top high school golfers all season looks to improve on her 2011 finish. Peyton tied for 28th place last year while shooting a two-day total of 168, which was 24-over par. This year Peyton has shot in the 80's only once. That was an 81 on the tough Long Run Course that hosted the regional tournament last week.

The state tournament is a two-day event. All teams and individuals that qualified out of regional tournaments played yesterday and the 20 lowest individuals not on one of the 11 teams that qualify for day two will advance to the final round today.

Results of the state golf tournament will appear in next week's issue.

HCHS GIRLS SOCCER

Girls soccer falls to Owen in double-OT heartbreaker

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

For most of their Sept. 26 game against Owen County, the Henry County Lady Cats soccer team was leading.

But with eight minutes left in regulation, Owen's Ashley Byers tied the game. She went on to drill the double-overtime, game-winning goal, leaving the Lady Cats to wonder how the game slipped from their grasp.

It was perhaps the best performance of the season for Henry County for the first 72 minutes of the game, but tired legs slowed a defense that had been stout throughout the game. Both of Byers goals were breakaways as she streaked past the defense and got into one-on-one situations with goalie Sophie Hughes who had another good match between the posts for Henry County.

The game opened with neither team being able to get the upper hand. But 15 minutes into the game, Rachel Vegh struck from 15 yards out in traffic to give the Lady Cats the lead.

Henry County then gained some confidence going forward and had a lot of possession but couldn't quite get the second goal as Vegh continued to threaten.

The best chance came for Vegh from 25 yards out on the right when a good shot hit the intersection of the post and crossbar and blocked punt, Mitchell dropped back to pass and rolled left with no luck, before scrambling to his right and spotting a wide open Hoofman standing at about the 10-yard line. Hoofman scampered into the end zone for his 2nd touchdown reception of the quarter. Mitchell then ran the conversion attempt straight up the middle and EHS led 14-0 with 3:32 remaining in the opening quarter.

On the next series Trimble, beginning on their own 15-yard line, moved the ball down field with several off-tackle runs.

But the Warrior defense stiffened when the Raiders finally reached Warrior territory and came up with a tackle for loss on 1st-and-10 from the Eminence 42. Faced with 2nd-and-long the Raiders threw two incomplete passes and were forced to punt as the quarter ended.

On Eminence's second possession of the second quarter, the Warriors had the key drive of the game.

Starting from their own 14-yard line, the Warriors were backed up to their own 7-yard line on a penalty. After two short runs made it 3rd-and-10 from the 14, Justin Mitchell dropped back and found Brandon Mitchell for a 23-yard completion to keep the drive going and get the Warriors better field position.

After a late hit penalty against Trimble, the Warriors were at 1st-and-10 on the Raider 13-yard line. Two runs got the ball to the 3-yard line and Moore ran it up the middle for the touchdown. Shelby Armstrong ran in the 2-point conversion to make it 22-0 with four minutes to go in the half.

Trimble County took over on downs in the second half and began to grind away with several off-tackle runs. Raiders running back Wyatt Adkins did most of the damage in the drive with hard, straight-ahead running. Adkins finally carried it into the end zone on an 8-yard run with 6:21 remaining. Hoofman blocked the extra-point kick and the EHS lead was cut to 16.

Starting on their own 35-yard line on their next possession, Eminence drove downfield on an 11-play, 4:21-long drive, that culminated in a 1-yard Armstrong touchdown run to make it 28-6.

The drive featured a critical 4-yard run by Moore on 3rd-and-1 midway ; a 23-yard pass reception by Brandon Mitchell that got the ball to the 14-yard line; and a 13-yard run by Moore, setting up Armstrong's touchdown.

Eminence held the Raiders on their next possession and took over on their own 35-yard line after a punt to begin the 4th quarter.

The Warriors drove down field quickly with good running from Moore, Justin Mitchell and Armstrong, and scored again on a 13-yard run by Armstrong to make it 34-6. The Warriors passed only once on the drive, and had a 28-point lead with 10 minutes to go.

Trimble County slowly moved toward the Eminence goal line on their next possession. Trimble reached the Eminence 1-yard line after a pass completion on a fake punt kept the drive going despite being 4th-and-14. Three plays later the Raiders had a 1st-and-goal from the 10-yard line and tried to pound the ball in but the Warriors held strong and took over on downs at the one.

With 3 minutes left, the Warriors were backed up to their own goal line and trying to run out the clock. Facing 3rd-and-10 from their own 1-yard line, Justin Mitchell ran a keeper around right end hoping to get enough yards for a first down and found himself in open field.

Mitchell took it the length of the field for a 99-yard touchdown, capping the win.

Coach Steve Frommeyer was pleased with what he saw as a complete game from his team. "What I liked is that we played every play," he said. "We played as hard in the 4th quarter as in the 1st quarter. We're starting to play consistently hard on every play."

He was also impressed with the team's response to adversity. "We got frustrated with the physicality of the game and got a personal foul," he said. "But the kids maintained their composure for the most part and handled it well. They just went out and played harder."

Frommeyer was pleased with his team's defensive play, particularly freshman lineman Marcos Garduno and junior linebacker Hayden Hoofman. "Hayden has kind of become a leader on defense because of his energy. Marcos is a promising freshman who shows good versatility. He plays at tackle and end. We move him around to where we need him. He led us in tackles with nine for the game. That's impressive for a lineman."

Drawbaugh thought Bates' junior varsity performance may have lit a fire in the Varsity runners. He said, "I think a light bulb is starting to go off in some of our runners. Many of the varsity runners did not like seeing John PR on a course that they all said they hated. They are excited for Collins this weekend where they will be on a flatter course that is accurate. HCHS BOYS SOCCER

Boys' soccer falls 10-0 to Shelby, Grant

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

HCHS 0 Shelby 10

The Henry County Wildcats' soccer team traveled to Shelbyville on Sept. 24 and took on the Rockets of Shelby County. The Cats were defeated 10-0 by the talented and athletic Rockets.

The Rockets led 5-0 at halftime and quickly extended the lead to 9-0 after the break. Shelby scored their 10th and final goal with about 8 minutes remaining and the game ended early due to the 10-goal rule.

"We couldn't get the ball past midfield very often," Coach Bobby Jameson said. "We did frustrate them some with the off sides trap in the first half. They were very talented and athletic. Their defense was very good.

"They adjusted very well to our off-side trap. Their midfielders began to play shorter passes and dribble past us. Their dribble penetration was very hard to stop."

HCHS 0 Grant 10

The Wildcats played at Grant County on Saturday and lost again by a score of 10-0. Jameson felt that his team played better against a more talented Shelby County team.

He said, "Nothing good happened in this game. We got smoked. Defensively, we weren't the same team we have been lately. Offensively, we could not get anything going because we were just physically outmanned.

They were big and looked more like a football team. I think our guys looked at them and underestimated them. They were faster than our kids expected."

EHS Volleyball falls to Carroll 3-1

BY GREG WOODS

The Eminence Warriors traveled to Carroll County on Sept. 24 to take on the Lady Panthers and lost in 4 games, 20-25, 17-25, 25-5, 18-25.

"We did not play well," Coach Stephanie Barrows said. "The girls went into this game not focused and ready to play. The only game they showed up in was the 3rd game when they won 25-5. They didn't play as a team or even communicate. We need to work on offense and defense. We need to work on our communication and ability to get focused for the games."

Sans Payton, Lady Cats fall to Wolverines

BY GREG WOODS
Sports Editor

When the Henry County Lady Cats travelled to Western Hills last week, they did so without sophomore middle hitter Megan Payton.

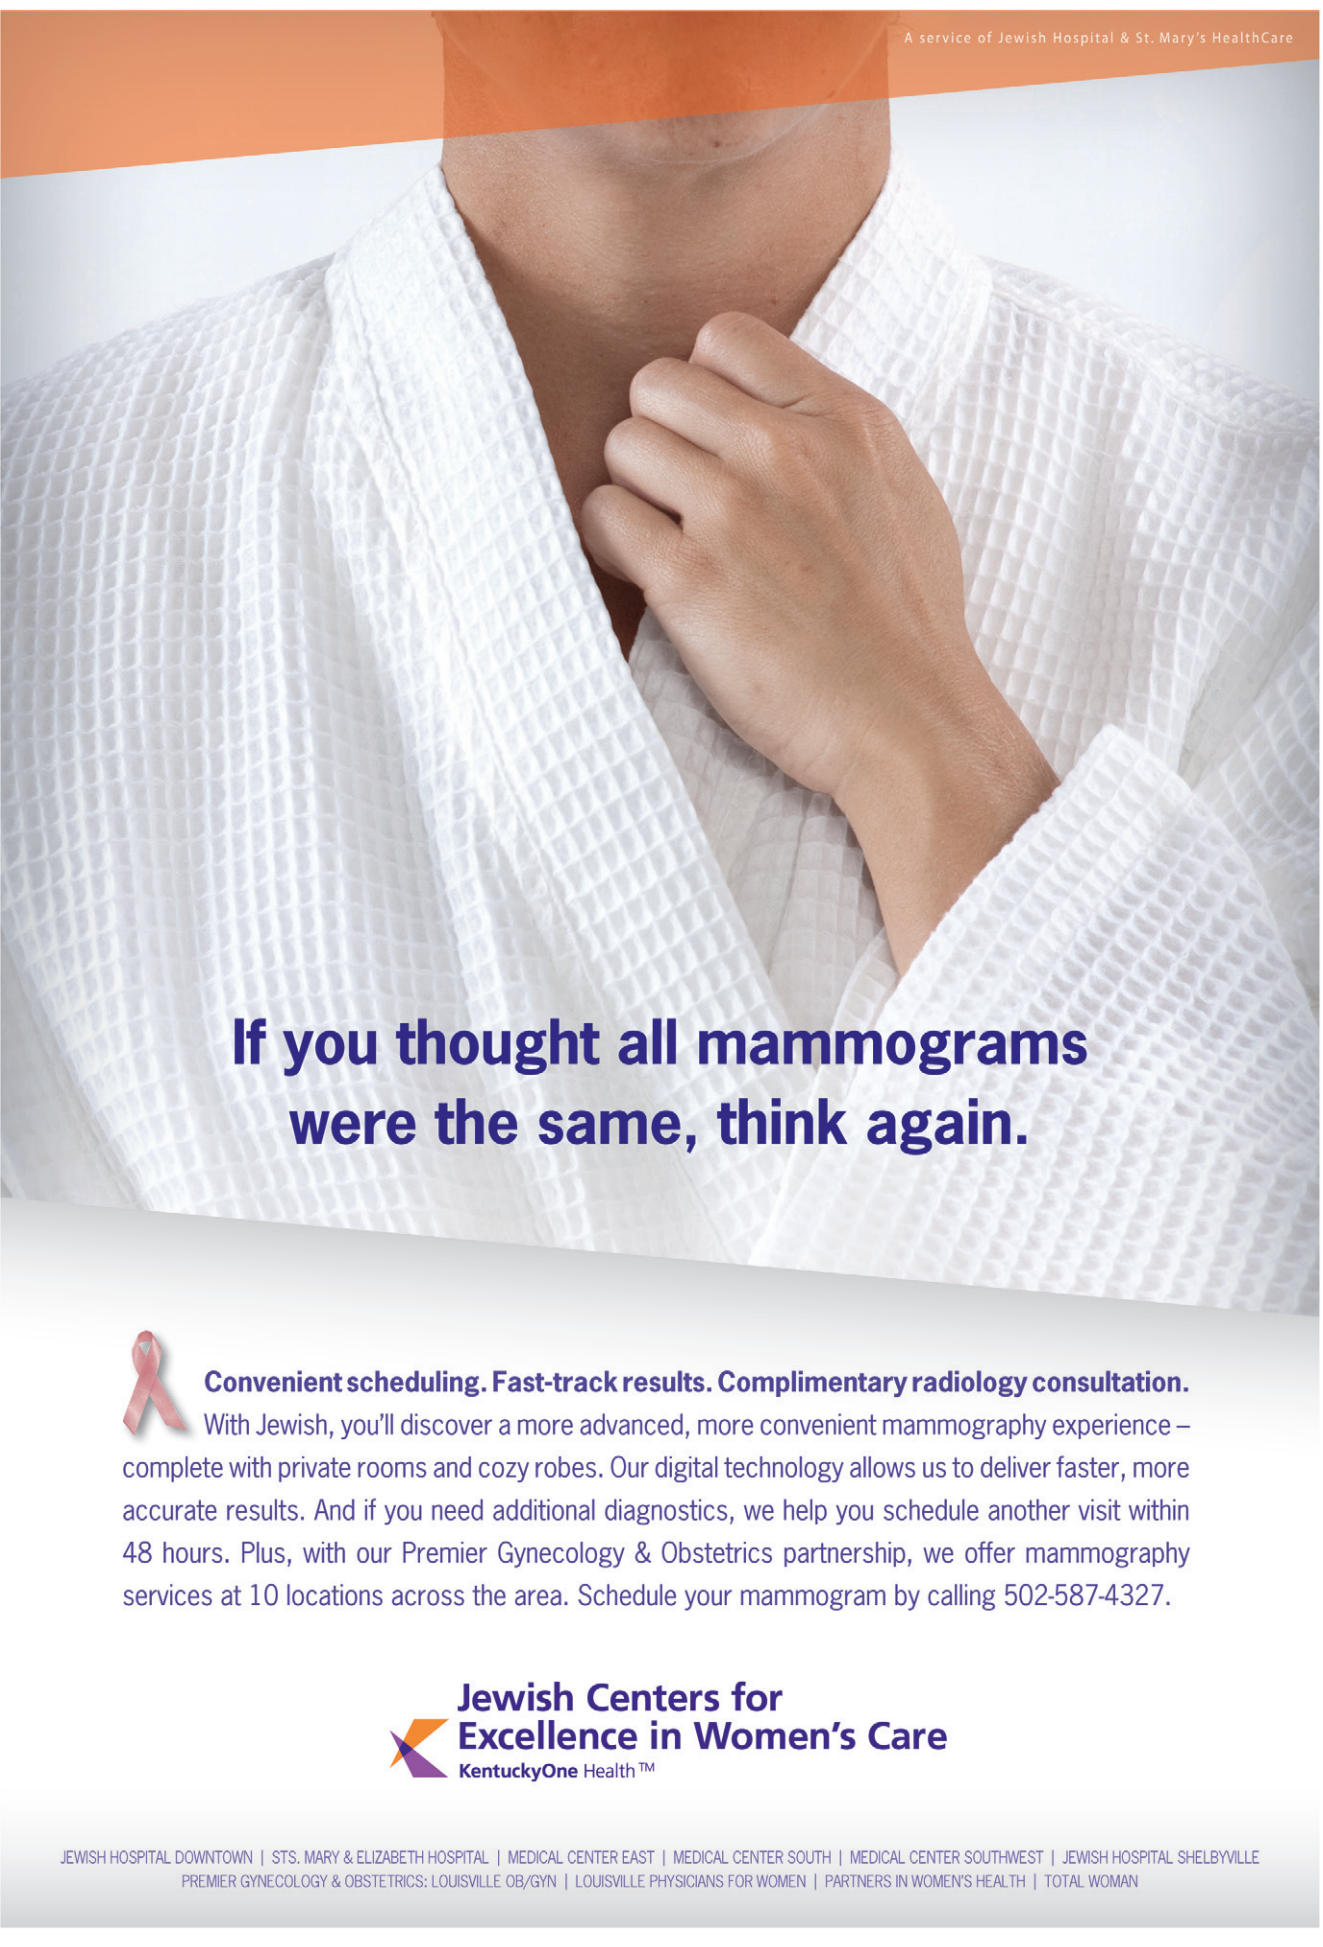

Her absence — due to illness — was keenly felt, as she wasn't there to help contain the tall Wolverine hitters, and Western Hills won the match 25-14, 25-19 and 25-17.

"We didn't have Megan so that hurt us a little, but I really thought other girls stepped up and did a good job," Coach Katie Ruff said. "Western Hills had a great outside hitter that had about four kills because we couldn't get a block up. They also had a strong middle that had a few tips and blocks against our team that we could not recover."

Ruff was pleased with Payton's replacement, freshman Devin Belcher. "Devin Belcher played middle for us since Megan was sick," Ruff said. "She did a nice job stepping in. If she was nervous I couldn't tell, she just went in and did what we needed her to do."

Ruff also was pleased with her team's passing in this match. "Our passing looked great," she said. "We seemed to play much better together as a team. Even though we lost, I saw a lot of improvement from the past. When we did something wrong, we just got right back up and went on with the game.

"Our setting and timing on hits needs a little work. We can't get a perfect set every time, but when we do we really need to utilize that set with a great hit. If we can get that and our passing to work all together our team will be unstoppable!"

Brie Prewitt served up an ace; Henry got two more net violations; and the score was tied, 17-17.

The game seesawed back and forth until, at 24-24, Emily Coomes went back to serve. On the first point of her serve, Gailynn Carroll came up with a dink shot that fell for a point and gave Coomes the opportunity to serve for the win. After a short rally Thomas got the kill to end game 1 in favor of the Warriors

The game featured long rallies with good passing and setting and emphatic kills and blocks by both Thomas and Payton. Others also got in on the act. Krista Deburger had some good hits for HCHS and Brie Prewitt and Emily Coomes had some for EHS. Destany Crawford of HC played well at the net despite giving up several inches in height to Thomas and Coomes.

It would be hard to pick a difference between the teams in Game 1 except that Gailynn Carroll used some of her deceptive handiwork to gain a couple of points on fake sets that she hit into open court.

The close loss affected the Lady Cats going into the second game, as Madison Pittman opened the serving for the Warriors reeling of five straight points. Pittman had one ace in the run and Henry had several hitting errors. The lead grew steadily after that until it reached 20-7 in favor of the Warriors. Henry had several serving errors, which denied them the big run that they needed to get back in the game. Henry did close the gap to 22-13 but a kill by Thomas stopped that run and Coomes got a kill to bring it to game point. A hit into the net by the Lady Cats ended it, 25-13.

The third game was no better for the Cats as EHS dominated from the beginning. Coomes went back to serve first for the Warriors and started things with a fortuitous ace when her hard serve hit the top of the net and rolled into Henry's court for the ace. She would serve seven more times in the opening run and finish with seven aces in addition to a Thomas block to give the Warriors an 8-0 lead. Savannah Allgeier stopped the run with a tip at the net, and then served Henry County back into the game. She had three aces and EHS committed a couple of unforced errors to allow Henry to close the margin to 8-6. The game stayed close for a few points before Eminence ripped off a match-clinching 6-0 run to go up 18-9.

After that run neither team could string together more than a couple of points and eventually Destiny Dale served an ace to close out the match at 25-11 and set off a raucous celebration by the Warrior team and pep section.

Barrows thought the first game was one of the best games of the year for both teams. "Both teams really showed up to play and both teams really executed plays and had great defense," she said.

Barrows felt her team benefited from winning the first game. "I think that our girls' momentum from game 1 and their desire was the key to their success. They played their game and executed everything like we practiced."

Barrows could not pinpoint one or two players who stood out, feeling that all her players played well. "I think that these girls all played with 100 percent heart and determination and they are the reason we won!"

Ruff said frustration was the Lady Cats' downfall.

"We got a few bad calls in the first game, and then it seems like nothing got better for us after that," she said. "After every call the girls just got more and more frustrated, and it was hard for them to recover from losing the first set.

"Give Eminence credit, they played hard. I think they always give us tough competition. I don't think we played worse than the first match, I just think we really feed off each others' attitudes. Instead of rising to meet the challenge, we shut down and worried that no matter what we did we would get called for it.

"We can only control what we can control, and unfortunately that really hurts us."

Ruff was pleased that her team showed growth in the first game. "I think we played great in the first game," she said. "I was impressed by how hard we worked for every point. I could really start to see some of the things we have been working on in practice beginning to pay off."

The 2012 series between the two teams is tied. If there is to be a deciding round three, it will have to be in postseason play. Eminence will have to take the long road to the final by defeating Gallatin in round one and then playing Carroll County. If they pull off that feat then they have to hope the Lady Cats get by Owen in order to bring about a tiebreaker between the teams.

bounced away. Minutes later, she had another chance from close range on the right but the Owen County keeper stopped the shot.

Owen County struggled to get into the game and had only one or two decent opportunities in the first half. The best opportunity for the Lady Rebels came late in the half from a corner kick. Sophie Hughes made a quick reaction save on a shot from close range that kept the Cats ahead going into the locker room.

Savannah Adams who was filling in at sweeper for Jessica Holcomb who had left the game very early with an ankle injury, adjusted admirably to her new role and helped keep the pressure off Hughes for most of the first half.

The second half opened with a more energetic Lady Rebel team coming close twice. Hughes made a good save on the first shot that came in the 10th minute and then again came up with the big stop about five minutes later.

Vegh struck again in the 24th minute when she received a nice pass from Micah Lineman near midfield and then outraced the Owen defenders for a one-on-one confrontation with the goalie. Vegh slipped the ball past the keeper from 15 yards to put the Lady Cats up 2-0.

But Owen County woke up after the second goal. They answered almost immediately when they raced downfield and got a goal from Morgan Walker at the 22-minute mark to pull the margin back to 1 goal.

On Owen's next possession they threatened again as Hughes came out for a ball that Owen slipped by her, but Adams was there to snuff out the threat and kicked the ball harmlessly over the goal line for a corner kick.

Henry County got close again when Lineman had a shot from close range but she did get all of the ball and it ended up in the keeper's hands. Owen then got a good clearance from the goalie and found Byers in the middle of the field. She raced by the tiring Henry County defense and hit the shot that tied the game.

The winning goal was eerily similar to the tying goal.

In the second overtime, Vegh made a nice cross into the box. Lineman tried to head the ball but could barely get a touch on it and it slipped away. An Owen defender recovered the ball and passed it quickly up field where it was passed to Byers, who dribbled past the defense and found herself one-on-one with Hughes again. She hit a well-struck ball that got past Hughes and went into the back of the net for the game-winner.

Coach Brandi Stivers was disappointed that her team let the win slip away but saw the game as a positive in the grand scheme of things. "I think this game showed our girls that they have the ability to hang with the other teams and beat them," she said. "We just had a breakdown during the game with one side of our team weakening. The Owen players were able to identify that weakness and capitalize on it."

She was especially pleased that several players who had to make adjustments due to injuries and illness were able to do so.

"I think Rachel Vegh did a good job for us and showed that she is definitely a threat to the competition," she said. "I also think McKayla Cline helped step up on the offensive end. She helped create plays to keep the offense moving. Savannah Adams really made a large impact on the game as she had to move to a position she does not normally play and take command of the defense. She did a wonderful job and was also playing with an ankle injury. Micah Lineman also did a wonderful job in the offense. She normally plays midfield, but we mixed things up in this game and it worked greatly to our advantage."

According to Stivers, injuries to Jessica Holcomb and Maddie Rucker played a key role in Owen's comeback. The team was also without the services of Teressa Deweese who missed the game because of a car accident. "I think injuries had a large impact as we had to shuffle the players around to try and keep the game going. It also hurt us in that we were down to one sub so almost the whole team was tired and you had girls playing a majority of the game that don't normally see a lot of playing time."

HCHS 0, Shelby County 7

The Cats traveled to Shelby County on Sept. 24 and lost to a talented Shelby County squad 7-0.

Stivers said the team started out playing Shelby tough and held their own throughout the game. She said, "Shelby County's experience showed and they were able to continuously get goals throughout the game. Shelby County is known to have tough teams and experienced players.

I think our defense did well- we were able to shut down one of Shelby's most explosive players throughout the game, however, Shelby is a well-rounded team and while we were able to stifle the play of one of their biggest threats, there were others that were able to score effectively."

Stivers praised the play of newcomer McKayla Cline. "I have to say McKayla Cline did a good job for us in helping out with the defense," she said. "Toward the beginning of the game one of my most experienced players, Jessica Holcomb, had to go out of the game with an ankle injury and McKayla did a good job of helping the defense. Justice Kirk also really stepped up her game and helped out by moving to a different position on the field and directing the defense."

HCHS 0, Grant County 2

The Lady Cats traveled to Grant County on Saturday and lost a close contest 2-0.

"When the game began I noticed that our girls were a little flat and slow to respond, however as the minutes ticked by they were able to pick it up and take off," Stivers said. "Again, it was difficult as we had to adjust our lineup-some players arrived slightly late due to other engagements. It was a pretty even match between the two teams. We were able to take some shots on goal. However we were not able to quite get them into the net."

Stivers praised the play of her goalkeeper. " Sophie Hughes did an excellent job for us in goal," she said. "She did a great job of determining when to come out of the goal and challenge for the ball and made several great saves. Jessica Holcomb and Justice Kirk also did a wonderful job back in defense in helping shut down Grant County's offense."

Stivers thinks the team is rounding into form as district play looms on the horizon. "I do believe that we are very close to getting another win," she said. "Our girls are getting to know each other's style of play better. I think if we can get our lineup to stabilize somewhat, we would be winning a lot more."

EHS Cross Country takes on Frankfort Archives

BY GREG WOODS

The EHS cross country team traveled to Frankfort for their 3rd meet at the Archives course in 2 weeks for the Capitol View Classic on Saturday. Several runners were out due to injury or illness but Coach Christina Jimison was pleased with the effort of those who ran.

"As a team, I know we can continue to get better but I was proud of my girls," she said. "They worked hard and we have plenty of work to do, but I feel like they did pretty well with this being their first time racing a 3k. The whole team is very motivated and continue to set new goals for themselves. Our team's goal was to finish strong on Saturday, and with several out sick and injured, they stuck it out. I was proud of them."

Frankfort's All Comers meet Sept. 26

The Eminence Cross Country team opened its season and quickly showed improvement with many first time runners dropping their times in each race.

The team once again traveled to Frankfort to compete on the Archives course Wednesday, Sept. 26. Several runners improved on their times from the previous week at the same course. It was also an auspicious debut meet for Gabrielle Pittman in the varsity race.

Pittman ran the 5k in 23:58 on a course that is known as one of the toughest in the state. The field was small at five runners but Pittman's time was impressive for a first-time runner.

Coach Christina Jimison was very pleased with the team's efforts.

"The team is working very hard, and it is definitely paying off. Their performance this week was much better than that of last week," she said. "Every practice or drill is making a difference. It is very exciting as a coach to see such improvements. Madison (Doktor) and Trinity's (Durrett) performances stand out. Madison placed 12th at 7:06 and continues to set new goals. Tabitha Meacham has shown the greatest growth overall. She struggled at first but is very motivated to continue to set better (personal records).

"I'm very proud of my team. With injuries in the high school team and considering that several athletes are racing for the first time, our team is building a strong foundation for the rest of the season."

4-H Youth Development

Cathy Toole
Henry County Extension Office

Do you think teens should have a voice? Are you the kind of person who wants to make a positive difference in your community? Do you like meeting new people? What about dancing?

If you answered yes to these questions then you need to attend 4-H Issues Conference!

The annual 4-H Issues Conference is a four day gathering of top student leaders from across the Commonwealth held each year in the fall. It is open to high school sophomores and juniors who display leadership potential and who will make a commitment to implement what they learn back home. Team size is limited to five youth and one adult participant per county. The conference will be held at the Lake Cumberland 4-H Center Nov. 15-18. The cost for the event is $140 per participant.

Before coming to the conference, delegates are asked to assemble information materials composed of newspaper and magazine articles, photographs, pamphlets, and other materials on an issue of interest to them. At the conference, participants share thoughts and concerns regarding those issues and learn the process skills necessary to organize for community action back home. Delegates use a case study methodology to practice applying what they learn.

This is what you can expect to take away from this conference:

- Learn valuable leadership skills and how to make a difference!
- Find out how to solve issues in your community by working with caring youth and adults!
- Work with others to plan and present your potential ideas to a mock fiscal court!
- Qualify to apply for one of four $500 grants to use to help your community!
- Make new friends and enjoy games, dancing and the famous "Issues Bowl"!
- Open to both 4-H member and non-members who take a sincere interest in making the world a better place!

Contact Cathy Toole, Henry County 4-H agent, at 845-2811 for more information about attending the 4-H Issues Conference in 2012. Interested teens should be Sophomores or Juniors in high school who have not attended the conference previously.

Saving money is important no matter your age, especially with an economy that is much like a roller coaster.

Kentucky youth can learn the importance of saving money by participating in the Piggy Bank Design Contest. The contest is a way for the youth of Kentucky to display their creative skills to their county and potentially the state, while becoming more aware of how to build wealth and reduce debt. The Piggy Bank Design Contest is the youth component of Kentucky Saves. Kentucky Saves Week begins Feb. 24 and ends March 2.

Contestants will begin the competition at the county level, where a panel of judges will pick the top two entries to send on to the District judging which will be held in Carrollton on Dec. 12. Judges will choose the two winners based on originality, creativity, artistic design and attractiveness. The winning piggy banks from each district will have their design put on display in February at the state Capitol rotunda in Frankfort.

As a new addition this year, all 14 district winners will receive a $250 scholarship from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority and the Kentucky Education Savings Plan Trust. These scholarships will be awarded in the form of a KESPT college savings account.

The deadline for entries is Dec. 3. Youth wishing to enter the contest must be kindergarten through 12th-grade students at any Kentucky public, private or home school. Bring your entries to the Henry County Extension Office by Dec. 3.

To receive an entry form and contest rules concerning the Kentucky Saves' Piggy Bank Contest visit http://www.uky.ag/moneywise or contact the Henry County Cooperative Extension Service. More information about the Kentucky Education Saving Plan Trust can be found at http:///www.kysaves.com.

Arrival of fall means hay assessment

Agriculture and Natural Resources

Steve Moore
Henry County Extension Office

The arrival of fall is an important time for livestock producers to assess their winter hay supplies. Determining both the amount and the quality will help insure you have enough to get your animals through the winter in good shape. Here's how to get a fairly accurate estimate of supply.

Estimate the number of days you'll feed hay this winter. In a normal year, Kentucky producers average 120 days (from Dec. 1 until March 31) of feeding hay. This will vary depending upon your situation. Some producers in Western Kentucky never really stopped feeding hay this year, due to the drought, and believe it or not, each year we have folks who really plan out their forage year nearly get through without feeding any hay at all.

Determine the amount of feed your animals will consume each day. Cattle and horses consume an average of 2.5 percent of their body weight every day, so simply multiply 0.025 by the average animal's weight times the number of animals you plan to feed.

Multiply the products of No. 1 and No. 2 together. This will give you a good idea of the approximate pounds of hay you'll need for the winter.

Take three or four hay bales to a facility with a scale, such as the local feed store. Take the bale's average weight and multiply that by the number of bales you have. Compare this number to the amount you need.

You also need to allow for storage and feeding losses, and adjust your hay supplies to cover these losses. If you store your hay outside, your losses may be more than 50 percent. A 50 percent loss would mean that you need to double the amount of hay you calculated is needed to feed your animals.

Before feeding hay, you should have it tested for nutrient content. The Kentucky Department of Agriculture's Forage Testing Program can help you determine if your animals are truly getting the nutrition they need or if you need to supplement the ration to maintain your animals' body condition. You can reach the KDA at 1-800-248-4628.

September rains

Stockpiling should pay off well this year. It always seems a bit of a gamble to put some nitrogen on pastures in August when it is hot and dry in order to boost fall production, but the September rains have made it worthwhile this year. While all of our cool season grass based pastures and hay fields have greened up, those with nitrogen have the extra boost. This should ease the hay supply somewhat, as stockpiled pastures can give livestock feed supplies well into the winter.

How much rain? We now have seven dedicated and consistent rainfall observers around the county, and rainfall ranged from a low of 4.16 inches near Smithfield to a high of 5.83 inches on Kentucky 22 just northeast of Pleasureville. The rains have not only benefited pasture and hay, some late soybeans improved, and tobacco curing is reported to be developing a good color.
